

Cashlink and tokenstreet form strategic partnership to jointly offer solutions for asset managers & banks

- Cashlink and tokenstreet form strategic partnership to create synergies and combine expertise
- The offering consists of a 360-degree solution that combines IT & issuing services and financial services relating to crypto securities register management, SPV as a Service & Service AIFM

Frankfurt, 02.09.24: Cashlink, provider of the leading infrastructure for tokenized assets and crypto securities registrar according to eWpG, forms a strategic partnership with tokenstreet, which specializes as a service KVG in the administration of private equity and crypto funds.

Michael Duttlinger, CEO and Co-Founder of Cashlink says: “We are very pleased to have tokenstreet as a strategic partner. With their comprehensive solution for SPV administration and fund administration, they succeed in optimizing back and middle office processes in a way that reduces costs and significantly simplifies the distribution of tokenized fund vehicles such as AIFs and ELTIFs. With our combined expertise, we are creating a 360-degree solution for financial and issuing services in the digital age.”

Vincent Amm, Co-Founder and CEO of Tokenstreet, emphasizes: “The cooperation with Cashlink enables a comprehensive end-to-end solution for the issuance and management of tokenized Alternative Investment Funds (AIFs). This solution offers investors transparent and automated processes thanks to state-of-the-art technology. The offering is aimed primarily at financial service providers and asset managers who, in addition to institutional investors, also target wealthy private investors.

The use of distributed ledger technology, smart contracts and tokenization is intended to promote innovation and competitiveness. Bankhaus Metzler and Siemens AG, for example, have already launched well-known projects. The demand from the market and the synergies for the financial industry were decisive for this joint offer.

In addition to Cashlink's crypto securities registry and tokenization infrastructure, tokenstreet takes over the ongoing administration of investor onboarding, processing of fund lifecycle events and ongoing reporting including tax services.

About tokenstreet

tokenstreet offers a comprehensive solution for the administration of SPVs and alternative investment funds that goes beyond a pure software solution. Through digitalization and tokenization, back and middle office processes as well as the interaction of all parties involved are optimized and automated. This reduces administration costs, ensures error-free processes and improves the customer experience. Supported by a service team, tokenstreet efficiently accompanies the entire lifecycle of SPVs and funds and ensures full compliance with investment, regulatory, ESG and tax laws.

About Cashlink

The Frankfurt-based financial technology company Cashlink offers Europe's leading infrastructure for the tokenization of assets. As the German market leader, Cashlink enables the issuance of digital securities in accordance with the eWpG in the form of bearer bonds, funds, bonds, shares or certificates. In June 2024, the company received the full BaFin license for crypto securities registration, covering the entire value chain of securities tokenization. Renowned financial institutions, experienced issuers and innovative FinTechs benefit from the new possibilities of tokenization and at the same time realize efficiency gains in securities settlement. The shareholders of the multiple FinTech Germany Award winner include well-known venture capital investors such as TX Ventures from Switzerland as well as Helaba.
